

Written by the VONNE team with Amy Langdown

We worry about Terminator-style AI robots
But we hope, in our future, technology will answer some of our big questions
We worry about a Mad Max-style world apocalypse
But we hope our future will be safe

We worry about rapid climate change
But we hope, in our future, all countries will commit to climate action
We worry about inequality
But we hope that, in our future, everyone will be able to live comfortably

We worry about poverty
But we hope, in our future, everyone will have access to everything they need
We worry about ageing
But we hope, in our future, we will be looked after with care

We worry about our families' health
But we hope, in our future, healthcare will be better funded
We worry about world conflicts
But we hope, in our future, kindness and truth is encouraged

We worry about being good enough
But we hope, in our future, we will ignore our inner critics
We worry about the state of politics
But we hope, in our future, we will have a government who cares

We worry about being left behind
But we hope, in our future, we will connect more human to human
We worry about powerlessness
But we hope, in our future, everyone will have a voice

We worry about a feral society
But we hope, in our future, we will feel peace and contentment
We worry about a broken system
But we hope, in our future, we can fix it

We hope for discrimination to no longer exist
We hope for more women in power
We hope for financial security
We hope for the protection of green spaces
We hope to embrace failure
We hope more people will sit in uncomfortability to get comfortable
We hope to give ourselves more time for joy
We hope to be inspired by creativity
We hope for less apathy, more action

Our future is exciting
Our future is their future
Our future is a blank page
Our future is uncertain, with limitless possibilities
Our future is in our hands
Our future starts now

